Dear members of the FIU community:

I am sad to share with you that Dr. Jacquelyn Hartley passed away on Friday, December 14. Dr. Hartley served on the faculty of the School of Nursing from 1984 to 2004 and throughout the years held various leadership positions including Chair of Family Community Nursing, Department Chair, Associate Dean and Acting Dean. Dr. Hartley received honors and awards for being an outstanding nurse, nurse educator, as well as nursing administrator. She was an active researcher and had extensive grant writing skills. The grant that she was most proud of is the Cuban project. She wrote the pilot for foreign doctors, who were not eligible for the physician licensure examination, to enter a program of study and upon completion take the nursing licensure examination and become registered nurses. To this date, this program successfully allows many health professionals to provide much needed care to the South Florida community. In addition to her work within the school, she was actively involved in several university-wide committees as well.

Dr. Hartley is remembered as a kind, thoughtful and considerate colleague who worked tirelessly for the educational advancement of students and was held in high regard by faculty, staff and students.
